

A Warm Round Of Applause

The audience gave a very warm round of applause to the group "Gruppo d'Archi Veneto" which held two concerts for New Year's in the Catholic Church of St Marcos with a repertoire which included works by Vivaldi, Corelli, Marcello, Bach and Handel.

The group, a chamber music orchestra active in Venice, is comprised of certified musicians from Veneto Conservatory and has worked with great orchestras on many occasions in the past.

The Gruppo di'Archi Veneto made its debut in 2003 with a repertoire ranging from baroque by Bach to classical Venetian music by Mozart and romance music by Shubert.

The audience enjoyed the orchestra's performance for over an hour and a half under the maestro Davide Pauletto while first violin was played by Nino Foti who has been a permanent resident of Zakynthos these past years.

All present were enchanted by the melodies and asked the concerts be repeated again next year.
